

Case lawCase Details*National ID: linkMember State: FranceCommon Name:linkDecision type: OtherDecision date: 06/12/2007Court: Cour de Cassation (Supreme court)Subject:*Plaintiff:*Defendant:*Keywords:*Directive ArticlesDistance Selling Directive, Article 1Headnote

No Headnotes available.

Facts

The claimant bought a "personal" return train ticket from Paris to Amsterdam from the French national train company, SNCF, through the internet site of another train company, Thalys. As the ticket holder no longer wished to travel himself, he attempted in vain to exchange the ticket for another ticket which could be used by anyone in its possession. The decision on appeal had ordered the SNCF to reimburse the claimant the price of the ticket.

Legal issue

Under article L. 121-20-4 of the French Consumer Code, the right of withdrawal does not apply to this type of service.

DecisionFull text: Full textRelated Cases

No results available

Legal Literature

No results available

Result