Headnote*Int Konsumatur.

Consumers have the right to find the price of all the products offered for sale by the seller. The price indicated must include the Value Added Tax (VAT) as well as any other charges. Where products are sold by weight or volume, two prices need to be included on the product: (i) the actual price at which the product will be sold to the consumer, and (ii) the unit price of the product. The latter may be indicated in a smaller font.
