National Ministries of Justice and courts are the main organisers of court staff training in the EU Member States. In other Member States this task is performed by judicial academies or judicial structures such as Councils and Prosecutors’ Offices.

Here is the information regarding the structures in charge of court staff training in the EU Member States:

- Belgium:
  Training is organised by the Federal Ministry of Justice but provided by two public sector structures.

- Bulgaria:
  The Supreme Judicial Council and the State Commission on Information Security are responsible for the organisation of training. Training is provided by a mix of public, private and European structures.

- Czech Republic:
  The courts, the Public Prosecutor's Office and the Ministry of Justice are responsible for training judicial assistants, higher court clerks and judicial trainees. Training is provided by the Judicial Academy.

- Denmark:
  The Danish Court Administration is responsible for organising training, which is provided by the Domstolsstyrelsen.

- Germany:
  In Bavaria, the Regional Ministry of Justice is responsible for organising the training of bailiffs and security staff. Training is provided by regional training providers and courts. In Berlin, on the other hand, organising and providing training is in the hands of the Court of Appeal. In Brandenburg, the regional court is responsible for organising training. It also provides training in collaboration with the regional Academy of Justice.

- Estonia:
  The National Ministry of Justice is responsible for organising training, which it also provides in collaboration with courts.

- Ireland:
  Court services are responsible for organising training, which is provided by a mix of public and private structures.

- Greece:
  Training is provided by a public structure.

- Spain:
  Court staff training is organised by the Ministry of Justice, by a public training provider and other entities.

- France:
  The training of chief court clerks, civil assistants, civil secretaries, court clerks and technical agents is organised by the Ministry of Justice and provided by the Ecole Nationale des Greffes.

- Croatia:
  The State Judicial Council is responsible for organising training, which is provided by the Judicial Academy of Croatia.

- Italy:
  The National Ministry of Justice is responsible for both organising and providing training.

- Latvia:
  The Court Administration organises court staff training, which it delivers in collaboration with the Latvian Judicial Training Centre.

- Lithuania:
  Court staff training is organised by the Civil Service Department and the Ministry of the Interior. National courts are the training providers.
- Luxembourg:
The Public Prosecutor's Office is in charge of organising training, which is dispensed by the national training provider.

- Hungary:
The National Office for the Judiciary and the appointing courts are responsible for organising the training of clerks, court secretaries, physical workers and trainees. The Hungarian Academy of Justice, sometimes in collaboration with the appointing courts, is the training provider.

- Malta:
Court staff training is organised by the local courts and provided by public structures.

- Netherlands:
The Council for the Judiciary is responsible for organising training, which is dispensed by the national training provider in collaboration with local courts.

- Austria:
Court staff training is organised by the Federal Ministry of Justice and provided by the latter in collaboration with the Presidencies of the four Courts of Appeal.

- Poland:
Court staff training is organised by the courts and provided by public structures: national courts, the National School of Judiciary and the Public Prosecution.

- Portugal:
Court staff training is organised and provided by the National Ministry of Justice.

- Romania:
Court staff training is organised by the Ministry of Justice, the Prosecution's Office, the Superior Council of Magistracy and the National School of Clerks. Training is provided by a variety of public sector structures.

- Slovenia:
Court staff training is organised and provided by the Judicial Training Centre.

- Slovakia:
Court staff training is organised and delivered by the Ministry of Justice through the Judicial Academy.

- Finland:
Court staff training is organised and provided by the Ministry of Justice in collaboration with the courts.

- Sweden:
Court staff training is organised by local courts and the national training provider. Local courts are responsible for delivering training.

- United Kingdom:
Court staff training in England and Wales is organised by the Ministry of Justice and provided by a mix of public and professional structures.
Court staff training in Scotland is organised and provided by the Scottish Court Service.

---

This page is maintained by the European Commission. The information on this page does not necessarily reflect the official position of the European Commission. The Commission accepts no responsibility or liability whatsoever with regard to any information or data contained or referred to in this document. Please refer to the legal notice with regard to copyright rules for European pages.

Last update: 20/09/2018