

Insolvency registers

All EU member countries have insolvency and bankruptcy registers for which you can find information. These registers are in the process of being connected and becoming searchable from a central point.

The registers record, analyse and store insolvency information and make it available to the public, albeit in different forms, depending on the country:

- countries with dedicated registers – publish information on all stages of the insolvency proceedings and the parties to the proceedings.
- countries using other registers – the situation is more diverse. Some only publish the name and the status of a company, others include information on all stages of the proceedings.

Please select the relevant country's flag to obtain detailed national information.

One-stop search

Use the link below to search – in any  official EU language – national insolvency registers for:

- information and documents on insolvency proceedings
- documents relating to debtors

Search national registers

The information and documents you can find in these registers should be available for free.

Currently not all EU countries are available via this service. This should be rectified by mid-2019 which is the deadline set by the revised Insolvency Regulation to establish the EU-wide interconnection of national insolvency registers through the European e-Justice Portal. This future system of interconnection will contain in a harmonised way a predefined set of information ("mandatory information") on insolvency proceedings wherever they are opened in the EU.

This page provides you with a brief overview of the German insolvency register.

German insolvency register

The German insolvency register gives you access to the insolvency proclamations of all German insolvency courts, in line with Section 9 of the Insolvency Statute. This information is legally binding and publicly accessible.

The register is owned and maintained by the Bund-Länder-Commission for data processing and rationalisation of justice, represented by the Ministry of Justice of the Land North Rhine Westphalia.

Is access to the German insolvency register free of charge?

Yes, access to the German insolvency register is free of charge.

How to search the German insolvency register

The insolvency register is accessible only at the German insolvency register website. Where necessary, instructions on how to search are given on the website. Information is available only in German.

Please note that an unrestricted search in the data of all German insolvency courts is only possible in the first two weeks following the first day of publication. After this time you have to search for the place where the insolvency court sits and at least one of the following: surname, name of firm, place of establishment or residence of the debtor, insolvency court or registration office reference number, type of register, and registration number.

History of the insolvency register in Germany

The insolvency register website has provided information on insolvencies since 1 April 2002. Detailed information on the periods covered and the proceedings for which data are available can be found on the website.

The information refers to cases where the insolvency procedure is not yet completed. The data is deleted six months at the latest after the finalisation of the procedure.

Insolvency registers - Estonia

Please note that the original language version of this page et has been amended recently. The language version you are now viewing is currently being prepared by our translators.

This section provides you with a brief overview of the insolvency service provided by the Estonian Commercial Register.

What information is available in Estonia on insolvency?

Estonia does not have a separate insolvency register. The Estonian commercial register and the register of non-profit associations and foundations, however, contain information on the bankruptcy of legal entities and self-employed people. Information on declarations of bankruptcy of legal entities and natural persons can also be found in the official electronic publication Ametlikud Teadaanded (Official Announcements), in which notices of bankruptcy and bankruptcy proceedings are also published.

The following are entered in the Estonian commercial register and the register of non-profit associations and foundations on the basis of a court judgment:

- the quashing of bankruptcy proceedings without declaring bankruptcy;
- declarations of bankruptcy together with the name and personal identification code of the trustee in bankruptcy, as well as a note stating that he or she is representing the company;
- the quashing of a declaration of bankruptcy together with an entry showing continued activity by the company;
- the quashing of a declaration of bankruptcy and deletion of the company from the register;
- termination of bankruptcy proceedings and the deletion of the company from the register or continuation of the company's activities;
- a compromise and the term for this, with an entry showing continued activity;
- cancellation of a compromise and re-opening of the proceedings to declare bankruptcy, with a note that the company is represented by a trustee in bankruptcy;
- end of the compromise when it has expired, and discharge of the trustee in bankruptcy.

Details of trade bans imposed on a debtor or the person with power to represent them or prohibitions on the pursuit of commercial activities imposed on that person are not entered in the register.

The Estonian commercial register contains the following information on bankrupt legal entities:

- name of the legal entity;
- registry code;
- address;
- name of the trustee in bankruptcy;
- name of the management board member;
- date of the bankruptcy order/ruling and the number of the order or civil case.

Is access to information regarding insolvency free of charge?

Registry data can be accessed at the registry departments, online and at notary's offices. Access to the data held in the commercial register and the register of non-profit associations and foundations and to file documents is free of charge at the registry departments.

No fee is charged online for searches concerning legal entities, self-employed persons and branches of foreign companies, for information about court proceedings or for access to registry card data. However, a fee is charged for all other searches, including historical registry card data and access to annual reports, articles of association and other documents. The rates charged for using the computer data in the commercial register are laid down in a regulation of the Minister for Justice.

A fee is charged for consulting registry data and file documents at a notary's office. The fees are set out in the Notaries' Fees Act.

Access to the official electronic publication Ametlikud Teadaanded (Official Announcements) is free of charge.

Details of trade bans are published and can be accessed free of charge online.

How to search for information on insolvency

You can search for a legal entity or self-employed person in the commercial register's information system (the e-Business Register) by business name, name or registry code. The status of a legal entity or self-employed person indicates whether or not that person or entity is bankrupt.

History of the insolvency information service

The Estonian insolvency service has been available since 1 September 1995.

Insolvency registers - Ireland

This section provides you with information on Ireland's insolvency register.

What does the Irish insolvency register offer?

Ireland does not have a separate company insolvency register. Information on company insolvency is available in records of the Company Registration Office.

The Personal Bankruptcy Register is a manual register kept in the Examiner's Office of the High Court. It contains details of bankruptcies declared by the High Court of Ireland. The register is a record of all bankruptcies, including those that have been discharged. However a person conducting a search against the register is told only the status of the bankrupt 'discharged' and the date it was discharged. No information is given about the former bankrupt.

The Register of Personal Insolvencies is also a manual register. It is subject to statutory instrument S.I. No. 334 of 2002 – European Communities \(Personal Insolvency\) Regulations 2002, and contains details of personal insolvencies declared by the courts of the other member states of the European Union (as notified to the Official Assignee in Bankruptcy).

Is access to the Irish insolvency register free of charge?

No. There is a fee payable per search. Details of the fee are available in the Rules & Fees section of the Courts Service website. The fee applies even when the search returns a negative result – that is, where there is no entry matching the search criteria on the registers.

How to search the Irish insolvency register

Searches of the Personal Bankruptcy Register can be conducted only by attending in person at the Examiners Office, 2nd Floor Phoenix House, Phoenix Street North, Smithfield, Dublin 7.

History of the Irish insolvency register

The Personal Bankruptcy Register contains information dating from 1922.

The national language version of this page is maintained by the respective Member State. The translations have been done by the European Commission service. Insolvency registers - Luxembourg

Luxembourg does not have registers for cases of insolvency.

What is the situation regarding insolvency registers in Luxembourg?

Luxembourg does not have registers for cases of insolvency. Courts making declarations of bankruptcy notify them to the business register, which enters the information in its database.

Is access to the Luxembourg bankruptcies list free of charge?

The list of declared bankruptcies is published on a monthly basis in Mémorial B (the administrative and economic digest) and may be consulted free of charge on Legilux, the Luxembourg Law Portal.

Moreover, the business register places a statistical package for public consultation free of charge on its internet site in the section entitled 'Consultations - statistiques de dépôt', providing information on declarations of bankruptcy which have been filed with the business register during a certain month. This information is available in the form of lists of filings made. The service also offers the facility of exporting this information in flat file format.

How to search the business register for information on bankruptcies in Luxembourg

1st method: It is possible to carry out a search via the business register Internet site (RCS) using the name (or part of the name) or the registration number of the person registered.

The search engine of the site then displays a list of names matching the search criteria.

On clicking on the name of listed persons, the following basic information is displayed free of charge:

- business register number,
- date of registration,
- name,
- legal form,
- registered office address,
- a list of documents filed since 2003,
- and bankruptcy if any.

2nd method: It is possible to perform a search via the business register Internet site (RCS) in the section entitled 'Consultations - statistiques de dépôt', using the statistical module providing information on declarations of bankruptcy that have been filed with the business register during a certain month.

3rd method: It is possible to perform a search via the Luxembourg Bar Internet site, in the 'Bankruptcies' section ('Faillites'), using the company name, the date of the bankruptcy judgment, or the name of the receiver (curateur).

Insolvency registers - Netherlands

This section provides you with a brief introduction to the Dutch insolvency register.

What information does the Dutch insolvency register contain?

In the Netherlands, there are three kinds of insolvency:

- bankruptcy
- moratorium
- debt restructuring

The district courts are responsible for decisions on all these types of insolvency, and for maintaining the relevant data within their own registers. They are also responsible for the (automated) transmission of insolvency notifications to the Council for the Judiciary, which uses these notifications for the Central Insolvency Register \(CIR\) on bankruptcies and moratoriums.

The CIR contains all information from published insolvency notifications, including:

- personal details
- company names
- business register IDs
- details on curators and administrators
- all previous notifications

The CIR was established by law, so information contained in it may be assumed to be legally binding.

Besides the CIR there is also a National Register of Debt Restructuring Cases (Landelijk Register Schuldsaneringen – LRS), which is run by one of the Legal Aid Councils (Raden voor rechtsbijstand). As an additional service (not required by law), the CIR also contains the data from the LRS. The CIR and the LRS can both be consulted online.

- Type of procedure;
- The first judgment term established after the opening of the procedure, where appropriate.

History of the Romanian insolvency register

The Insolvency Proceedings Bulletin was established in 2006 under Law no. 86/2006 on insolvency proceedings.

The main objective of the Romanian Insolvency Proceedings Bulletin is the ongoing optimisation of the electronic system of summonses, notices, calls and notifications of procedural documents published.

Benefits of the Romanian Insolvency Register

The Publication of the Insolvency Proceedings Bulletin brings clear benefits:

- It speeds up the insolvency procedure, and simplifies the release of summons, convocation, notifications and communication of the procedural documents by law courts and judicial administrators/liquidators, thus establishing an electronic procedure for such matters.
- It unifies and standardises the procedural documents issued by law courts and judicial administrators/liquidators.
- It contributes to the development of a national database of procedural documents issued by law courts and judicial administrators/liquidators (i.e. summons, communications, judgments, convocations, notifications, reports, reorganisation plans).
- It facilitates rapid registration in the trade register / other registries in respect of notifications required under Law no. 85/2006 on insolvency proceedings.
- It gives interested persons access to the procedural documents issued by law courts and judicial administrators /liquidators.

Insolvency registers - Slovenia

This section provides you with an introduction to the Slovenian insolvency register. Information on the review and publication of Slovenian insolvency proceedings is accessible online.

What does the Slovenian insolvency register offer?

The e-INSOLV database provides information on the review of insolvency proceedings. It also provides the following data on insolvency proceedings:

- selected identification data on the insolvent debtor,
- the court conducting the proceedings and the serial number of the case,
- selected identification data on the administrator of the insolvency proceedings,
- the start of the proceedings, the expiry of the deadline for lodging a claim and data on other procedural acts in the proceedings,
- in the case of bankruptcy proceedings, also data on the value of the bankruptcy estate and proportions for repayments to creditors.

The e-Publications database provides access to:

- all court orders (singular: sklep; plural: sklepi) issued in insolvency proceedings, except for orders on the collection of regular remuneration, orders on the seizure of financial assets, orders on the termination of collection of regular remuneration or of seizure of financial assets;
- notices of the initiation of proceedings, notices fixing a hearing, and other notices or calls for a vote issued under the law by a court;
- all minutes of hearings and meetings of the creditors' committee;
- administrator's reports and attached documents;
- in compulsory settlement proceedings, also the reports of the insolvent debtor and attached documents;
- lists of tested claims;
- lodgements by parties to the proceedings and other court records, whose publication is provided for;
- in bankruptcy proceedings, also all calls for public auction and invitations to make offers in relation to the realisation of the bankruptcy estate.

In addition, a list of all administrators (seznam vseh upraviteljev) and the insolvency proceedings they are dealing with can be obtained from the e-Publications database. The lists are updated daily.

Both databases are owned and maintained by AJPES, the Agency of the Republic of Slovenia for Public Legal Records and Related Services (Agencija Republike Slovenije za javnopravne evidence in storitve).

Is access to the Slovenian insolvency register free of charge?

Yes, access is free of charge. In order to access it, however, you must register as a user on the AJPES website and obtain a username and password.

How to search the Slovenian insolvency records

Both databases, including the search engines, are only available in Slovenian. It is possible to search for data and documents on insolvency proceedings concerning legal persons and sole traders using all the search criteria available, whereas in the case of searches for data and documents on consumers (natural persons who are not sole traders) only certain combinations of data may be used, in order to protect personal information.

The e-Publications database allows you to search for documents published in connection with insolvency proceedings. Published documents can be searched by:

- Debtor type (legal person, natural person, etc.),
- Proceeding type (bankruptcy, compulsory settlement, etc.),
- Document type,
- Debtor (search by company name, tax number or identification number),
- Legal form (public limited company, private limited company, etc.)
- Serial number,
- Court,
- Date of the act or of the publication of the document.
Search results are arranged by date of publication.

In e-INSOLV it is possible to search for data on insolvency proceedings by:

- Serial number,
- Debtor (first name and family name or company name, identification number, address, date of birth)

History of the Slovenian insolvency register

Data in the register has been available since 1 October 2008. Before that, some information, such as public notices of the beginning of insolvency proceedings, was published in the Official Gazette of the Republic of Slovenia (Uradni list Republike Slovenije; UL RS).

Insolvency registers - Sweden

This page provides you with information on the Swedish insolvency register.

What does the Swedish insolvency register offer?

The Swedish Companies Registration Office manages several registers which provide information on registered companies. The Swedish Companies Registration Office does not keep a single, coherent register of natural and legal persons which have been declared bankrupt. There is a register, kept by the Swedish Companies Registration Office, of natural persons and estates that have been declared bankrupt. However, information regarding companies that have been declared bankrupt is registered in several different business registers managed by the Swedish Companies Registration Office. Access to information on natural persons, estates and companies from the registers managed by the Swedish Companies Registration Office is accessible from an Internet search engine.

Hereafter, information on the bankruptcy of companies, natural persons and estates contained in the different Swedish Companies Registration Office' registers is referred to as The Insolvency Register of Sweden (including both information accessible from the Internet search engine and by directly contacting the Swedish Companies Registration Office).

The Register contains data on companies, natural persons and estates at different stages of bankruptcy. The Register broadly contains the following types of information:

- Date of start of bankruptcy proceedings
- Name of the responsible court
- Name, address and registration number/personal code number of the subject
- Status of the proceedings
- Name and address of the trustee

The register is owned and managed by the Swedish Companies Registration Office.

Only information submitted by the courts is entered into the Register. Information is entered on the day the information is received by the Swedish Companies Registration Office from the court. When a natural person is declared bankrupt, the information is included in the business registers the natural person may be registered in.

Is access to the Swedish insolvency register free of charge?

Information contained in The Insolvency Register of Sweden is available free of charge by contacting the Swedish Companies Registration Office by phone. Requests for written information from the Register incur a fee in most cases.

Access to information on companies' bankruptcy status by using the Internet search engine is free of charge. Additional information is available only to registered and paying users.

How to search the Swedish insolvency register

To receive information contained in the register, anyone can contact the Swedish Companies Registration Office by post, e-mail or phone. The Internet search engine allows to search the Register by company name, personal name, registration number or personal code number.

History of the Swedish insolvency register

Information contained in the Register is maintained for a period of five years
